

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

By FRANK R. KENT

Economy and Inflation

Washington, Feb. 26. THERE are approximately 80,000,000 persons in the country who own war bonds and stamps. There are 71,000,000 holders of life insurance policies and 16,725,733 individual savings-bank depositors as of July 1, last. Of course, there is some duplication in this, but certainly more than 80,000,000 of our citizens have either war bonds, insurance policies or savings accounts and more than half the whole population has all three.

—O—

THIS being so, and these investors not being idiots, every one of them must have a primary interest in the soundness of their investments. Given even rudimentary intelligence they are bound to be against anything that undermines their value or lessens their security. Now, no one denies that the greatest threat to every form of fixed income is inflation. With inflation, the cost of living goes up and the purchasing power of the dollar goes down. With uncontrolled inflation, the dollar becomes debased to the point of having no value at all, and bonds, insurance policies, savings-bank deposits and all other securities become worthless. A period of complete economic chaos then ensues in which everybody suffers—but, of course, most deeply, the poorer classes.

—O—

IT IS the custom to say that we will not have that kind of inflation here. And, of course, we ought not to have it and there is no excuse for having it. Nevertheless, it is conceivable, and it is possible. With our Federal finances out of control, as they almost are now, once we get into that upward spiral of rising prices and rising wages, inherent in the present situation, there is slight chance to avoid it. Considering these facts, it would seem that solely out of self-interest the holders of Government securities, insurance policies and savings-bank accounts would cease taking a passive interest in what goes on in Washington and become as active as they know how. It is clear that the two essentials are a truly balanced Federal budget and uninterrupted industrial production. Certainly, the many millions of small investors are vitally concerned in seeing that nothing is permitted to block these achievements. To this end the weight of these concerned citizens ought to be solidly behind legislation in Congress that will find some sound way of settling labor-industrial disputes which strangle the economic life of the country and affect the necessities of life for the people. Also, this weight should be unwaveringly against Federal waste and extravagance and in favor of rigid governmental economy.

—O—

YET, it is not exerted in either direction. A labor bill, not as comprehensive as it should be but to which few sound objections can be made, has passed the House but has a poor prospect in the Senate where the hint is given that the Desiring to broaden its instruction in religion, George School plans to secure a full-time instructor in that subject.

It is expected that the one chosen will be announced within the next two weeks.

Mr. Hubben has been instructing in religion at the school, but since assuming other duties two years ago has been able to devote little time to the work here. Mrs. Swayne has assumed some of the activity in the meantime.

After 29 years of faithful service to the people of Quakertown and vicinity, Mrs. Helen Lux, owner of a restaurant and bakery has turned over the keys to two brothers and ex-servicemen, Amos and Wayne Weida, of Emmaus. The Weidas have purchased the business and real estate and plan to continue the restaurant and bakery.

Both of the new owners have army records. 1st Lieut. Wayne, aged 22, served 14 months in China as pilot of the big C-47 cargo planes. His usual run was from China into Burma and Indo-China. Cargo consisted of high octane gasoline, food, munitions, troops and of all things, horses—four at a time. The ship, when fully loaded, weighed over 27,000 pounds. On his many assignments he was directed to pick up evacuees from deep in China. He also helped to liberate prisoners of war at the close of hostilities.

A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

The first Japanese admission of the existence of the so-called "winds" message—warning Japan diplomats throughout the world of impending war—came today from Katsuno Okumura, first secretary to the Jap Embassy in Washington in 1941. Okumura said that all Japanese embassies were informed thirteen days before Pearl Harbor of the plan to send a war warning in code by means of radio Tokyo weather forecasts.

A showdown today between city officials and the CIO United Transport Workers Union will decide whether New York's key transit lines will be hit by a paralyzing strike sometime after midnight tonight.

The House opens two days of debate today on the Patman Housing Bill, which its sponsors hope to amend to include vital features of the administration's emergency program to alleviate the national housing shortage.

The long-threatened strike against the Duquesne Light Company today was under suspension for at least another week while independent union members decide

Man and Boy Injured In 2 Auto Accidents

Penna. State Police of Langhorne barracks were summoned to investigate two motor accidents in lower Bucks Co. during the past 24 hours. One occurred in Middletown Township and one at Andalusia.

In the accident on Durham Road, Middletown Township, David B. Zarr, Venice avenue, Bristol Township, suffered a possible fracture of the skull. Taken to Harriman Hospital by Bucks Co. Rescue Squad he was removed later in the evening to Abington Hospital.

The accident occurred at about 4:15 yesterday afternoon, when Zarr failed to make a curve and his sedan overturned, according to State Police. He was en route toward Bristol at the time. The car is reported as a total loss.

In the accident at Andalusia, Carl Witbak, 13, of Poquessing avenue, Andalusia, was injured when hit by a car driven by Emil H. Matter, Croydon R. D. 1. According to members of the Witbak family, Carl was walking east on Bristol Pike, with traffic, when he was hit by a car travelling in the same direction. He was taken by his father to the office of a physician, then placed in bed at his home where he remains today. He suffered from bruises, abrasions and shock. Carl is a student at Bensalem Township high school.

Officer Gallagher investigated both accidents.

UNIONS VS. LAW

During recent months, strike demonstrations have been called for many reasons.

None of them, however, had more dangerous implications than the unanimous vote of 800 striking members of Philadelphia Local 119, United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers, CIO, to stage a mass picketing as a protest against an injunction limiting pickets to ten in number, spaced ten feet apart.

This is not a strike demonstration against the management of the plant concerned. It is not a strike against the court which issued the injunction. It is not a strike against the Pennsylvania Supreme Court which recently ruled mass picketing to be illegal.

It is a strike against basic American law.

When law is openly repudiated, anarchy results.

Every recent criticism of CIO is justified by its own vote. CIO has been accused of high-handed and illegal methods; this is a perfect illustration. It has been accused of seeking to control government by blackjack methods; again the example fits.

And countless persons have said that including John L. Lewis, one of CIO's founders, Communists are doing CIO's thinking. Of all the schools of thought in America, the only one which seeks revolution by force, by the ruthless overriding of law and order, is that of Communism.

In its arguments and defenses of its decision, the local hasn't a leg to stand on. Speakers proclaimed the injunction a violation of the Bill of Rights, in that it "prevents free speech and free assembly."

Free speech is not in any way involved, as the publicity given the union meeting amply demonstrated. As to

ASSAULTS TOO MUCH GOVERNMENT CONTROL

G. Mason Owlett Says There Is Too Much Government In Business

INFLATION IS AIDED

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 26.—(INS)—National GOP Committeeman G. Mason Owlett told the 37th annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association today that the Truman Administration has exercised a policy of "too much government in business."

He assailed the Administration's budget as the "most inflationary ever laid before Congress," and contended "it sent the stockmarket skyrocketing, further tangled the strike deadlock, and caused a new crisis in national housing."

Owlett blamed President Truman's regime for the "paralyzing effect of strikes and the threat of strikes" in the United States and added:

"It may be many months before the choppy seas of labor unrest are completely calmed."

The Republican national committeeman continued: "Reconversion has had a serious setback. Washington is bogged down by that altogether too numerous class of worshippers at the shrine of radicalism and social revolution."

"Unfortunately, there is no real, heart-warming leadership in the White House."

Owlett declared that "our national debt is at a critical point." "It still is within the physical power of this nation to retire it," he said. "If it continues to grow, the time is not far distant when repayment will be impossible."

He lashed the Truman administration for its "extravagance and waste" and insisted "we could have been out of the woods and on the highway to abundance today" except for "Truman inflation."

Continuing Senator Owlett said in part: "Government is a business enterprise—the people's business. It differs mainly from other business only in size. Sound business principles

Sharon Hill Man is Charged With 8 Counts of Intent To Defraud Ins. Co.

FOURTH DAY OF TRIAL

Defendant Recalled To The Stand For Further Examination

DOYLESTOWN, Feb. 26.—The fourth day of the trial of Redman D. Melvin, of Sharon Hill, formerly of Stroudsburg, got under way yesterday in the county criminal court, before a jury and Judge Calvin S. Boyer.

He is charged with eight counts of intent to defraud an insurance company by setting fire to and burning a motor vehicle, growing out of a fire last year when Redman Melvin's car was burned along the Lackawanna Trail.

The jury reconvened after being excused last Thursday night.

Nineteen witnesses which is being conducted by Assistant District Attorney Willard S. Curtin. Nine witnesses had been called by the defense up until yesterday.

The defendant, Redman D. Melvin, was recalled for further examination by his Attorney Achey and further cross-examination by the district attorney.

The defendant denied that he tried to correct any misstatements that he had made to State Trooper Leonard Picton, prosecutor, after the fire.

"Trooper Picton talked to me pretty strongly the night of Oct. 23, 1945, when I was arrested," Melvin testified.

"Assistant County Detective Stackhouse also tried to get things out of me that were not so," he added.

The defendant denied that he told the police that "as he stepped on the starter flames came out through the hood."

"I have no idea where the gasoline came from that was found under my car," the defendant said, in answer to Mr. Curtin's question.

ATOMS FROM THE SUN

Scientists the world over again have turned their instruments toward the sun. They are trying to fathom the mystery of sunspots, those phenomena which affect from 93,000,000 miles away, this earth and mankind.

A new field of discovery has opened up, based on the influence of the spots on shortwave communication and radar. The present manifestation on the sun has been playing havoc with broadcasting, with shortwave fadeouts
of an hour's duration. However, solar radio noise does not affect ordinary radio reception. It was a major hindrance to military communication and to radar during the war.

The auroral displays which have been observed in the skies
over certain sections of the country are attributed to the sunspots.
Both the magnetic and auroral displays are supposed to be caused by entry into the earth's atmosphere of swarms of electricity-charged atoms from the sun.
Apparently, they have no appreciable effect on weather.

Sunspots occur in eleven-year cycles and sometimes last for months. The big one causing the present disturbance is estimated to be 60,000 miles in diameter.
The spots frequently are visible
to the unaided eye.

Through the ages men have peered into the universe but only recently have they discerned
clues to its awesome cosmic forces. The study of the atom takes them again into the heavens.

HOW WILL THEY VOTE?

The women of Japan, suddenly projected into a position of government influence by the grant of suffrage, are being exposed to all sorts of pressures by political leaders. It indeed is a new era for the wives and daughters of that nation, who, for centuries
have been as slaves to their men, daring not even to voice an opinion, much less a contrary one.

This makes it doubtful whether they are prepared to react sufficiently to make an appreciable contribution to their betterment
or to influence the immediate future of their country. American authorities have "detected" an undercover movement to persuade the male heads of families to prevent their women from going to the polls.

Taking an opposite tack, the more conservative parties are naming as diet candidates the wives and relatives of former war leaders. Communist and other radical leaders are concentrating on the working women of the cities and farms. But the fact that the suffrage order came from the conqueror's headquarters may hinder the liberal elements.

The task of preparing Japanese for participation in politics probably will be a long one, especially as the country is far from unanimous in support of it. But the more enlightened women are looking forward to March 31
when, for the first time in history,
they will vote.

The average American strikes 9-4 matches a day, according to statisticians, who fail to reveal how many of them are borrowed.

UNIONS VS. PEACE

free assembly, this is a right which universally has been held to be subject to the limits of property in choice of time and place.

Eight hundred union members freely assembled in the place they had acquired for that purpose, and at a time they themselves set. Is this suppression of the right of "free assembly?"

Moreover, mass picketing itself is a violation of the Bill of Rights and other Constitutional guarantees of the owners of the strike-bound plant and their maintenance crews to have free access to the property.

The legal principles under which the injunction was issued are crystal clear and are almost universally accepted except for the CIO strikers themselves.

The State Supreme Court upheld them by a 4 to 1 vote. The dissenter disagreed, not on the legal principle, but on technical ground that he thought insufficient proof had been submitted (in a Pittsburgh case) that mass picketing existed or was about to exist.

The dissenting vote was cast by Justice Charles Alvin Jones, who as Democratic candidate for Governor in 1938 enjoyed the support of the CIO leadership. He said that where mass picketing existed, the logical legal conclusion was that "the plant had been seized and was being held against the owner's right to it."

The Civil Liberties Union, always exceedingly jealous of the rights of strikers, has declared that the right of owners to have access to their plants is "undebatable."

Even the Philadelphia Record, which has strained a point to condone many strike policies both in unions and in government which were of doubtful propriety, refuses to swallow the Local's defiance of the law. Editorially
the Record said, of this incident:

"When a union takes the position that it is bigger than the Government, that the law is what union officers say it is—

"The Government will have to crack down, unless Government in the U. S. A. is to break down."

This puts the matter in a nutshell.

The CIO leadership has moved into a position where it insists on doing as it pleases, regardless of law and regardless of the rights of the whole American people.

Like a spoiled child, it wants what it wants when it wants it.

This brawling spirit is endangering the whole labor movement. As the implications become more visible to the American people, pressure for powerful restraints on unions are inevitable—and some of the pressure will come from wiser segments of the CIO membership itself.

The Philadelphia local voted unanimously to meet orderly legal processes with lawlessness.

The law itself showed no violence in its own approach: there were no seizures of union officials, no jailing of members, no calling out armed troops—practices which various dictators in Europe who capitalized on the labor movement to ride into office later used to enslave workers.

Instead, the courts stated the law in the form of injunctions, with the entire legal reasoning available for everyone to study.

The word "injunction" has been tagged by certain labor spokesmen as a sort of red flag; the expression
"yellow-dog" has been used to prejudice union members against proper injunctions just as much as against possibly improper ones.

How else, except by injunction, may those responsible for enforcement seek to uphold the law without recourse to violence on their own part?

No substitute for injunctions as a peaceful approach to the prevention of lawless violence has ever been invented.

Absence of government is anarchy; and as for government, mankind has known only two varieties of it—
government by men and government by law.

Government by men is dictatorship; government by law is the only method which offers justice, freedom and good order.

No more reprehensible and dangerous trend could exist in any nation than for an organized group to strike against the law.

CIO senators, who most violently denounced the filibuster on the FEPC bill, if it seems likely to go through, they should be read in attention about this from the aforesaid $6,000,000 bondholders, etc.— but there has been small sign of such. Equally, there should come from the millions of small holders vicious protest against the phony economy preached by the Truman budget message, which isn't economy at all but extravagance.

NOT only are there more civilian jobholders on the pay roll today
than there were when the war ended, but there is no plan for reducing them—quite the contrary.
In addition, it is proposed to spend more in every department in the year beginning July 1 than was spent in the year ended June 30
last. A recent authoritative estimate is as follows: Agriculture, up 22.5 per cent; Commerce, up 10.2
per cent; Interior, up 47.5 per cent;
Justice, up 24.8 per cent; State, up 14.2 per cent; Treasury, up 58 per cent; War (civil functions), up 11.1 per cent. In brief, we are not going to reduce the Federal pay roll; we are not going to reduce Federal costs; we are not going to reduce the Federal debt. There is literally nothing in the Truman fiscal plans, as one man remarked,
"to make any civil-service jobholder turn over in his groove."

AS under Mr. Roosevelt, the trend is toward spending, not saving. The gesture toward economy are feeble

The Woman's Society for Christian Service recently installed the following officers: Mrs. William Gentry, president; Mrs. Herbert
Wright, vice president; Mrs. Walter Hartel, recording secretary; Mrs.

tary; Mrs. Evelyn Doughty, treasurer. The Rev. Gay Eversley conducted the installation.

RECORD NUMBER

CHICAGO (INS) — Insurance
and greater earning power were held responsible today for a 10-year record number of patients
cared for in Chicago's voluntary (private) hospitals. Increased illness was discarded as a factor in more than doubling the patient load carried by such hospitals from 1934
to 1944, year of the latest daily patient census study compiled by the American hospital association for the area.

RAMBLERS AGAIN SET THE SCORING RECORD OF LEAGUE

Roll Up 96 Points in Battle In Which Edgely Is Defeated

FINAL SCORE, 96 TO 31

Three Players Score a Total of 74 Points Between Them During Game

For the third time this season the Ramblers set the scoring record of the Bristol Youth League. Last night before an overflowing crowd in the Mutual Aid hall, the Ramblers racked up 96 points to trim the Edgely A. A. 96-31.

Prior to this the Ramblers had set the mark at 86 and previous to that had set the score at 78.

Three of the Ramblers' players, "Bumps" Constantini, "Lefty" DiTanna, and "Dezzy" DeLise scored 74 points among them and the entire Ramblers aggregation counted 44 field goals more than the entire point score of the losing team.

In accomplishing their record mark of 96, the Ramblers took 110 shots at the nets and dropped in 8 of their 16 foul tries. "Bumps" Constantini, the league's leading scorer, hit the cords for 29 points while Killian and Rittler scored 13 each to lead Edgely.

The triumph enabled the Rams to hold on to their hopes of finishing in a deadlock for fourth place, the final playoff spot in the circuit.

KAISER CARGO TO MEET ROHM & HAAS FIVE

The Kaiser Cargo five and Rohm and Haas will clash in a Mercer County League game tonight on the Maple Beach club-house floor. Opening tapoff will take place at 8:15 o'clock.

This game is a replay of the tilt of several weeks ago when Rohm and Haas beat Kaiser but the Kaiser management protested on the eligibility of Joe Snyder with the result that the game was ordered replayed.

The airplane workers have beaten Rohm and Haas three times this season but the chemical workers are determined to score a victory which they need to put them in the playoffs. Kaiser Cargo is certain to be in the playoffs, finishing in third place during the season.

EASTON—Joseph A. Kyle was quick to go to the top when he decided legislation was needed to halt cat shooting. When one of Kyle's cats was shot on his Mt. Bethel farm, he wrote Gov. Edward Martin a letter demanding legislation to prevent the shooting of cats used to battle rats.

Burton Scored Seven Field Goals and Four Fouls

The Celtics remained in a deadlock for fourth place in the Bristol Youth League by registering its third straight triumph last night on the Mutual Aid floor. The Celtics topped the Sporters, 52-37.

The last-place Sporters gave the Celtics plenty of opposition for a while but the superior playing of the ultimate winners stood out and aided by Al Burton who garnered 21 points, the Delamans had little trouble after the first half was over.

Burton scored 7 field goals and four out of four fouls in the first half but was guarded closely during the second half playing to be held scoreless from the field although he managed to sink in three more fouls in four tries.

Mannocchi was high for the losing quintet with 10 points, Mazzanti having nine.

MARCH 15 TAX QUIZ

(This, the second of a series of 15 brief articles explaining, in question and answer form, how to fill out your federal income tax return.)

By Francis E. Smith
Collector of Internal Revenue

Q. What form is used for filing income tax returns? A. Most wage-earners can choose between filling out their Withholding Receipts or filling out Form 1040.

Q. Who can fill out a Withholding Receipt as an income tax return? A. This form of return is designed for taxpayers who get all or virtually all of their income from wages from which income tax is withheld. Form 1040, instead of the Receipt, must be used by anyone whose total income was $5000 or more; by anyone who had more than $100 in dividends, interest and wages not subject to withholding; and by anyone who had any income at all from other sources such as rents, annuities, sale of securities, profit from business and trust funds.

Q. Who can use Form 1040? A. Anyone.

Q. Where can I get these forms? A. You get your Withholding Receipt from your employer. You can get Form 1040 from any collector's office and most banks and post-offices.

Q. Some Withholding Receipts are different from others. Which can be used as a return. A. The form of Withholding Receipt was changed late last year to improve its wording and arrangement. However, both the old and new forms produce the same results and either one is officially acceptable.

Q. I understand there is a "short form" and a "long form." Where do I get them? A. Both names refer to Form 1040. This form is called a "short form" if the tax is determined from the table on Page 4. It is called a "long form" if the tax is figured from the computation schedule on Page 3.

The farm, which recently was disposed of by Mr. Canby included in addition to the fine old dwelling house, the barn and other out-buildings, two bungalows. The 146 acres include one tract fronting on the south side of Hulmeville Road and the Neshaminy Creek; another fronting on the north side of Hulmeville Road and Newportville Road; and another fronting on the north side of Hulmeville Road along Neshaminy Creek.

Mr. Grupp states that plans for the remainder of the tract are incomplete.
